Jury Trial Is Added to Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate wrote a jury trial amendment into the civil rights bill today, then defeated a proposal to knock out provisions for government-financed training in how to handle school desegregation problems.

In the first votes on the bill in more than a month, a roll call of 51-48 approved a jury trial amendment offered by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky. It would guarantee jury trials in all criminal contempt proceedings arising from the measure except in voting rights cases.

Next the Senate turned down a proposal by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, to eliminate three sections of the school desegregation title of the bill.

Under these sections, the U.S. Office of Education could arrange for and finance institutes to train school personnel in dealing with desegregation problems, could pay stipends to those attending the institutes, and could make grants to school boards to pay at least part of the cost of local training of personnel to handle desegregation problems and to help the boards hire specialists to advise on such problems.

The vote against this was 56 to 40.

The adoption of Morton's amendment was a defeat for administration forces but they believed it might help them get the Senate to adopt Wednesday a limitation on debate by swaying some Republican votes.

In advance of the test, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he is "cautiously optimistic" that the Senate Continued on Page Two

Printing Firm for Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three employees of Winthrop Rockefeller were listed as incorporators of The Tower Press, Inc., when its charter was filed Monday with the secretary of state.

The firm was incorporated to engage in all forms of printing, including newspapers, books, magazines, posters and pamphlets.

It was formed with 300,000 capital and may issue up to 50,000 shares of common stock at $1 per share.

Listed as incorporators were Craig M. Smith, Rockefeller's executive secretary, Adeline Damsis, Smith's secretary, and William H. Buddenberg, Rockefeller's printing office manager.

1 U.S. Pilot Is Held by Communists

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Communist Pathet Lao was reported today to have captured a U.S. Navy jet pilot shot down on a photo-reconnaissance mission over the jungles of central Laos.

Reliable sources said the Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay informed its officials in Vientiane of the capture of Lt. Charles F. Klusmann 30 of San Diego Calif. who had parachuted from his Crusader jet fighter on Saturday.

Pathet Lao officials in Vientiane declined to confirm the report. An air search continued for Klusmann.

A U.S. helicopter rescued Cmdr. Doyle W. Lynn of La Mesa, Calif., Monday and flew him back to the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk in the South China Sea. Lynn's Crusader was hit Sunday while he was escorting a reconnaissance mission.

The Pathet Lao has held another American flier a civilian, for nine months.

Eugene Debruin of Kaukauna, Wis., a flier for the Air America charter company, was captured last September when his transport plane was shot down in southern Laos.

A high neutralist military source said his troops were still holding sections of the high ground around Phou Kout, but that he did not expect them to hang on much longer.

3rd Week of Church Revival

Now in its third week, revival services continue at the Southside Assembly with Evangelist Grace Clark. Services are nightly at 7:30 with special music and singing, prayer for the sick, and inspirational preaching from God's word. The public is invited. Rev. S. Joseph Gemo is pastor.

WINTHROP ROCKEFELLER BROUGHT HIS HANDSHAKING tour to Southwest Arkansas today — no speeches . . . just to meet the people, the Republican candidate for Governor declared.

HE CAME BY THE STAR OFFICE, HOWEVER, and posed with the Republican ticket for Hempstead County. Left to right in the picture: Dr. Lynn Harris, Republican candidate for coroner; Mr. Rockefeller; Mrs. Bobbie Campbell, candidate for state representative; and Mrs. Dora King, candidate for tax assessor.

SCHEDULED TO ARRIVE AT HOPE AIRPORT AT 8:45 this morning, Rockefeller's plane was delayed about 20 minutes by headwinds. He flew in a twin-engine Beech, not his new super-fast Sabre-Jet.

ROCKEFELLER VISITED HISTORIC WASHINGTON, appeared in Hope at 10:30, lunched with Republican leaders here, and during the afternoon visited Emmet, Prescott, and Rosston. He is scheduled to take off from Hope airport at 6:10 tonight.

$50 Bonus for Hope Teachers

BULLETIN

Superintendent James H. Jones announced at 2 p. m. today that the Hope School Board would pass on to local teachers the $48 bonus announced by the state — and would round it out to make an even $50.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said Monday a "bonus" payment of $818,499 being sent to school districts could give each of the state's public school teachers average back pay of $48.63, if school boards pass the payment on to them.

The payment to the school districts comes from increases in state revenue collections and is for the 1963-64 school year.

Ford explained the payment to the state Board of Education which ended a two-day meeting here Monday.

The back pay for teachers would range from $122 for each of three teachers in the Patmos District in Hempstead County to $25.13, each of the eight teachers in the Desha County District.

The board allowed five school districts to go into debt as deeply as they legally could. The districts are Van Buren in Crawford County, Greenbrier in Faulkner County, Cutter - Morning Star in Garland County, Prescott in Nevada County and Marshall in Searcy County.

They were among 31 seeking approval to raise funds through commercial bond issues. The districts are limited under broad policy to maximum borrowing based on 18 per cent of their assessed property valuation.

The five districts convinced an Education Department committee that money was needed, primarily to finance construction or refund existing bond debt.

The board re-elected Marvin E. Bird of Earle as chairman and Rabie Rhodes of Harrison as vice chairman.

Pick Volcano as New Home in Alaska

UNALASKA, Alaska (AP)—A doughy Montana ranch family has arrived safely at its sprawling new holdings on the side of an inactive volcano on this island far out on the Aleutian chain.

"It took us 11 days and five hours," Rufus Choate, late of Miles City, Mont. said Monday. "The weather was very good all the way. The sea was exceptionally calm."

Choate, who is 52, his wife, his daughter, Susan, 20, his sons, Jim, 19, and Ted, 10, and his combination first mate-ranchhand, Jack Graham of Clatskanie, Ore., weighed anchor May 22 for the long voyage north through the Inside Passage to Ketchikan, Alaska, west across the Gulf of Alaska to Kodiak and then down the Aleutians to Unalaska.

They set sail in a 96-foot wooden vessel which was built in 1891 as a fire boat and was rebuilt into a small freighter and used many years between Seattle and Alaska. Aboard were 500 sheep, five saddle horses, five pigs and a banty rooster.

Choate expected no difficulty and ran into none. He figured that his navigation experience as an airplane pilot, and Jack's as a motorboat charter skipper in Alaskan waters would get them there.

Choate sold seven sections of land he ranched for years near Miles City and leased 265,000 acres from Uncle Sam on Unalaska.

He said things were getting too crowded around the Montana cow town. He didn't have room to spread out.

"When you can hear your neighbor's rooster crow," he said, "it's time to move."

Choate hopes to sail back to Seattle a couple more times before the weather gets too rough in September and haul back more sheep and cattle. Eventually he wants 2,000 sheep and 100 head of yearling cattle on this big island spread.

Barbecue Opens Race for Murphy

(Pictures on Page 8)

Dean Murphy, local Hope businessman, opened his campaign for Congress of the Fourth Congressional District, Monday night, with a kick-off rally and bar-b-que at the Hope National Guard Armory.

About 600 persons attended the rally. Preceding the introduction of Mr. Murphy, invocation was by Dr. George Balentine of the First Baptist Church in Hope; songs by Dr. Lowell Harris and Bill Flanders, music and education director of the First Baptist Church.

Mack McLarty, who served as Boys' State Governor, spoke in behalf of Mr. Murphy's candidacy.

As Dr. Garland Murphy of El Dorado introduced Murphy a ten piece band and approximately 40 students demonstrated with signs and placards.

Murphy, a native of Little River County and a veteran of World War II, declared that he would base his campaign on "honesty and integrity in government, conservatism and a balanced budget."

"I entered this race strictly on faith; faith first in God, second, in my fellow man and of course, faith in myself," Murphy said he was against socialized medicine under social security.

"Billions are taken out of social security and should be replaced. I am against the censorship of our news media by the federal government and I believe any raise in the salaries of our congressman or senators should be voted on by the people."

"I also believe that the congress should be equipped with an electric voting system so that every vote of our elected officials in Washington would be recorded."

Murphy compared the stench of the incumbent Oren Harris and the Texas congressman on two counts; first, the Social Security office located in Texarkana Texas which serves 8 counties in Arkansas and only 2 in Texas. Second, the arsenal in Camden that has long been closed and the arsenal and ordinance in the adjoining congressional district in Texas that is still running full force.

Murphy's slogan, which he emphasized again and again, "A New Face In The Congressmen's Race"—24 years is enough for anyone," was soundly applauded by the Murphy supporters. Caravans from throughout the district came to the rally; practically all 22 counties were represented.

AEA Favors 1 Bill; to Oppose 2

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, said Monday that the AEA board had voted unanimously to oppose two proposed constitutional amendments and to endorse a third.

Rozzell said the board voted to endorse the voter registration amendment and urged all members of the AEA to support it.

He said the group opposed an amendment to legalize gambling and an amendment to establish junior colleges or community colleges. AEA members were urged to oppose those amendments.

The board based its opposition to the junior colleges on the basis of a number of questions which Rozzell said have not been answered.

The questions involve the determination of a need for such colleges, how they will be financed where they will be located, what will be the curriculum, who will control them, how they will be accredited and what would be the requirements for entering.

Banning of Ex President Stirs Brazil

By EDGAR MILLER

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — New political turmoil threatened Brazil today because of the purge of Juscelino Kubitschek, banned from politics for 10 years to keep him from getting the presidency again.

President Humberto Castello Branco signed a decree ousting Kubitschek from his Senate seat and removing the political rights of the powerful political leader who had been the leading contender for the presidency in October 1965.

The suave former society surgeon joined more than 200 persons whose political rights have been suspended since President Joao Goulart and his leftist regime were overthrown April 1. Former Presidents Goulart and Janio Quadros who resigned in August 1961, also have lost political rights.

"My enemies fear me because they are afraid of the manifestation of the people," said Kubitschek, "and thus with this brutal act they (the government) remove me from the road of elections—which are the only valid manifestation in a truly

U.S. Jets Shake Up Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Navy jets were reported today to be changing reconnaissance patterns in Laos to foil Communist anti-aircraft guns which have downed two carrier-based jets.

The changes were believed to involve varying angles of approach, timing, formations and possibly altitudes.

There was a possibility the Navy might put in more jet fighters to guard the unarmed photo planes.

If Communist guns knock down any more U.S. jets, the photo planes might have to operate at a somewhat higher altitude.

This would reduce the quality of the photo information, particularly in the rainy season when visibility is less clear.

The Navy has been handling low - level reconnaissance over Laos, while the Air Force has been operating its photo planes at a higher altitude, sources said. The two services have about split the total volume of reconnaissance work.

Dry, and No Rain Before Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas — officially more than an inch below normal rainfall for the year to date—won't get moisture at least until Wednesday and then not more than an inch.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted this today, saying a low pressure system scheduled to bring rain to the western part of the state Monday night became static.

The bureau predicts clear to partly cloudy weather with little change in temperature through Wednesday. High temperatures of 88 to 96 are forecast today and Wednesday with overnight low readings of 62 to 74.

Isolated thundershowers are predicted in all sections of the state Wednesday.

Eight Die as Floods Hit Montana

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) —Eight persons are dead and at least 70 persons are reported missing today in the worst floods in Montana's history. Damage was in the millions of dollars.

Fed by days of heavy rain and a late-melting snowpack, streams and rivers swept down on a wide area of the state with tremendous force from mountains.

Four earthen dams and at least 25 bridges were swept away in the powerful torrents.

Near Valier, a community of 700 about 60 miles northwest of Great Falls, searchers slogged along Birch Creek looking for at least 70 persons believed missing.

Bruce Milne, superintendent of Valier schools, said search operations centered on a section of the creek hit by water from a broken dam.

Air Force helicopters moved into the Valier area to pluck a number of persons from perches on rooftops and in trees.

Milne said the confirmed death toll in Valier was one—a girl, about 8, named Bradley. He said her brother and mother were found on higher ground.

Other deaths reported included five Blackfeet Indians. Witnesses said they saw them swept away in a rampaging creek as they tried to board a pickup truck.

Two motorists died when their cars plunged into raging streams in the same general area of northwestern Montana.

Reports from the flood area were fragmentary. There were washed out bridges and inundated roads. One major highway was flooded in at least 11 different sections. Communications were down.

Valier was one of the hardest hit communities but a number of towns were heavily damaged including Choteau, Browning and Dupuyer, a community southwest of Valier.

Several hundred Indians were marooned in mountainous areas of the Blackfeet Indian Reservation, just east of famed Glacier National Park.

In the park more than 200 persons—many resort employees preparing for the tourist season—were cut off by washed out roads and bridges. Washouts blocked the Great Northern Railroad and trains were rerouted over tracks of another railway.

In Helena, the capital, acting Gov. Dave Manning appealed to President Johnson to declare the flood stricken counties a disaster area.

Col. Howard A. McKinney and Maj. Larry Kincheloe, who directed over-all rescue operations, described the floods as the greatest natural disaster the state ever had encountered.

The water unleashed from the broken dam at Swift Reservoir swept away herds of horses and cattle, two steel and concrete bridges, and numerous buildings. Houses were twisted off foundations.

Powered by near-record rains and late-melting mountain snowpacks, the floods hit by surprise Center of the flood area was northwest of Great Falls where Continued on Page Two

Takes Time But P.O. Does the Job

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The United States Post Office has returned Albert Washington's wallet to him, with the $205 in cash he had in it but it wasn't simple.

Soon after Washington lost the wallet in January, with the $205 in a secret compartment, it reached the post office via a mail box.

They mailed it to his Oakland address with 18 cents postage due, but he had moved and left no forwarding address. So it went back to the post office.

After the required 60 days workers stripped the wallet according to regulations and found the money. Postal officer Matt Higgins hunted around Washington's old neighborhood until he found someone who knew of his new address, and delivered the wallet and the $205 to him.

Higgins didn't even ask for the 8 cents postage due.

Jury Trial

will vote for cloture.

Mansfield made his report to President Johnson at the weekly White House breakfast of Democratic congressional leaders.

"We believe that reasonable men are now ready to vote," Mansfield said.

The jury trial amendment was offered by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., and was supported by Southerners, who have been fighting the bill for 74 days.

It was the Senate's first vote in relation to the bill since May 6.

Later in the day it was to debate and act on an amendment by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, dealing with school desegregation and one by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., dealing with discrimination in employment.

Morton's proposal would guarantee a jury trial in all criminal contempt cases growing out of violations of injunctions obtained under all titles of the bill excepting voting rights.

The guarantee would apply particularly to the titles barring discrimination in public accommodations, employment, public facilities and schools.

On voting rights, the Kentucky amendment would not disturb the 1957 Civil Rights Act. This gives a defendant in a criminal contempt case a jury trial only if the judge decides on a penalty exceeding 45 days in jail or a $3,000 fine.

The House bill now before the Senate does not give any right to a jury trial in criminal contempt cases except that, for public accommodations, the limitations of the 1957 law in voting cases would apply.

Morton's amendment is a modification of one he offered May 6 which was beaten 46 to 45 after a series of parliamentary maneuvers. His previous proposal would have assured the right of jury trial in all cases growing out of the bill including voting rights.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, conceded Morton's amendment might be adopted.

the surging streams coursed through small communities and ranch homes.

Despite poor flying weather, one jet-powered Air Force helicopter penetrated the flood-stricken area.

With a sling and hoist, Air Force medics lifted seven persons from perches ranging from tree limbs to roof tops. An Air Force spokesman said one man was taken from a roof just as it started to go under water.

Destruction was heaviest in the small communities of Augusta, Choteau, Browning and Dupuyer.

Dams burst near Choteau Browning, Dupuyer and East Glacier sending walls of water up to 30 feet high over the sparsely populated area.

Col. McKinney set up a rescue operations center in Helena, the state capital, after acting Gov. Dave Manning declared the floods a state emergency. Gov. Tim Babcock was in Cleveland at the National Governors Conference.

In hard-hit Choteau all 2,000 residents left their homes to seek shelter overnight in a church and country club on higher ground.

Nearly 1,000 persons were housed in emergency accommodations in Great Falls.

Typhoid vaccine was dispatched to a number of cities where community drinking water was polluted by floodwaters. The dams that broke at Choteau and East Glacier held city water supplies.

West of Dupuyer, the Swift Reservoir dam gave way, turning normally docile Birch Creek into a mile-wide river.

Jim Farrar of Shelby watched 15 horses hurled into a ravine by the torrent. Moments later it caught a herd of cattle and churned them under.

West of Browning, on the Blackfoot Reservation, a dam on Two Medicine Creek burst and water cascaded over Indian dwellings. Five members of a family named Grant were missing.

A policeman in Browning said witnesses saw the family swept away in a surge of water as they tried to clamber onto a pickup truck. The family included an elderly woman. The truck and bodies were not recovered.

The main floods were on the Sun River, rising in mountains west of Great Falls, and on the Marias River with tributaries in Glacier National Park.

Both the Sun and Marias feed into the Missouri River. Upstream gates at Canyon Ferry Dam near Helena were closed to lower the pressure on the fast-rising Missouri.

The Sun, which joins the Missouri at Great Falls, was expected to reach a crest of 20 feet—more than eight feet above flood stage—late today at Great Falls. This would cause lowland flooding surpassing a 1953 flood that caused millions of dollars damage.

Great Falls, with 70,000 residents, is Montana's largest city.

County Farm Agent

By CALVIN J. CALDWELL

American Farmer

The American farmer buys a lot of just about everything, affecting most of our income in one way or another. But some goods get used up in really big amounts in the farming process, and farmers have to keep on buying them.

Farm people, 8 percent of the total population, buy 13 percent of the petroleum produced in the United States, more than any other single industry; 8 percent of the rubber, enough to have put tires on all automobiles produced in this country last year; twice as much steel as the railroad industry or about 5 million tons, and more electricity than was used by the cities of Washington, D.C., Baltimore, Chicago, Boston, Detroit and Houston combined.

They buy more trucks and tractors than any other industry. And if you can picture a heap of 50 million tons of chemicals, that's how much agriculture uses every year. Farmers spread $1½ billion worth of fertilizer and lime each year.

It is estimated that 4 out of 10 jobs in private employment are related to agriculture; they depend on the farmers continuing to be a "big customer."

Cooperative Conference

Hempstead county will be represented at the State Conference on Cooperatives by Wayne Myrick this year. He is a member of the Jr. P.C.A. board of directors. The conference will be sponsored by the Arkansas State Committee on Cooperatives and conducted by the Vocational Agriculture Division of the State Department of Education and the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Arkansas.

The conference will be held at Camp Couchdale near Hot Springs, June 15-19.

Approximately 200 FFA and 4-H Club members will attend the conference from throughout the state. The purpose of this camp is to give the young men an opportunity to study cooperative and other methods of doing business and their role in our present and future economy.

The local cooperative that is sponsoring the boy from this county is Southwest Arkansas Telephone, Cooperative, Inc., Texarkana, Arkansas.

Chinch Bug

St. Augustine grass lawns were heavily damaged across South Arkansas last year by chinch bugs. The adult is a small bug about one-fifth inch long. It is black with white markings on the back. Nymphs or immature bugs are reddish in color, with a white band on the back. Overwintering adults are probably active at this time. Nymphs will be present very soon.

To check for chinch bugs, cut both ends out of a can and push one end down into the sod and fill with water above the grass. Chinch bugs will float to the top. This can be used as a basis for treating.

Broadcast application of an effective insecticide is needed when bugs are present. Best results are usually obtained when insecticide is watered in. Hose attachment sprayers usually do a good job in applying materials. Diazinon, Sevin, Ethion, V-C 13 are all effective. Follow the labels for dosages.

democratic regime." The ouster could prompt Kubitschek's Social Democratic party, largest in Brazil, to withdraw support from Castello Branco's government. A party spokesman said party leaders would meet to decide on a course of action.

Several thousand supporters massed outside Kubitschek's apartment house in Rio Monday night, singing the national anthem and cheering the former president. They carried him through the streets on their shoulders.

A clash threatened when followers of Kubitschek's old foe Carlos Lacerda, governor of Guanabara State and a rival presidential candidate, arrived and began jeering. They dispersed when the Kubitschek crowd continued to grow.

Kubitschek came to prominence as governor of Minas Gerais State during the final term of Getulio Vargas who committed suicide in August 1954.

Campaigning for president on a pledge to make Brazil an industrial giant, he was elected and launched his regime with Goulart as vice president on Jan. 31, 1956.

As president, he opened Brazil's doors to foreign investment transforming the land into South America's most industrialized nation.

The constitution barred Kubitschek from re-election and Quadros won the presidency in 1960. Goulart, Quadros' vice president also, moved up when Quadros resigned in 1961.

Politician in Panama Shot Down

By LUIS NOLI

PANAMA (AP)—Roberto (Tito) Arias was given a chance to live today while police sought a disappointed party associate who pumped three bullets into the colorful, controversial politician.

Arias' wife, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, said in Bath, England, her brother-in-law Harmodio Arias, telephoned her that her husband was "out of danger."

Dr. Antonio Gonzalez Revilla, who headed a team of neurosurgeons in a 2½-hour operation on Arias, said it would be 72 hours before he could say whether his 45-year-old patient would live or whether he would be paralyzed.

Police sought Alfredo Jimenez, a member of Arias' Panamanista party and an old friend as the gunman.

It was the second political shooting since Panama's national elections May 10.

Panama's U.N. ambassador, Aquilino Boyd fired two shots May 21 at the editor of a newspaper which accused Boyd of election fraud. The editor, Escobar Calvo, received a minor wound.

Arias was in surgery twice Monday night over a period of almost eight hours. First, doctors removed bullets from his right arm and his right side. He was given blood transfusions. Then the surgeons removed a bullet which lodged against the spinal column and caused paralysis.

Dame Margot said that unless her husband had a relapse, she hoped to go ahead with her first of three performances with Rudolf Nureyev at the Bath Festival tonight.

The couple were last together three weeks ago when Dame Margot stopped for a few days in Panama en route to Europe after an Australian tour.

Arias was riding in a car driven by Reynaldo Medina Monday when they met Jimenez' car stopped at an intersection for a red light.

Witnesses said Jimenez spotted Arias, leaped from his car, whipped out a pistol and fired. "You're not going to cross me up," Medina said Jimenez shouted.

Arias and Jimenez, in his late 30s ran as candidates for deputy and alternate deputy, respectively, in the National Assembly. Publication of the vote count Monday showed Jimenez elected, but as an alternate for another deputy and not Arias.

Speculation was that Jimenez believed he would have less chance to sit in the assembly than he would have had as Arias' alternate.

Drainage Project Gets Approval

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Authorization of $453,667 worth of drainage improvements in the Wells Bayou Watershed south-east of Dumas in Desha County was announced Monday by the Soil Conservation Service.

The service said the 58 farms in the 14,800-acre watershed are subject to frequent flooding because of inadequate natural drainage. About $249,420 will be provided by the federal government and the remainder by landowners in the area.

The Service also announced the planning of watershed protection and flood prevention work in the White River Backwater Watershed.

The watershed lies between the White and Mississippi Rivers in southern Phillips County and parts of Desha and Monroe counties.

Strikers to Consider a Work Plan

By CHARLES C. CAIN

HILLSDALE Mich. (AP) — workers at the strike-torn Essex Wire Corp. were to hold a back-to-work vote today in the wake of a warning from Gov. George W. Romney that settlement of the 102-day-old, violence-ridden strike is of vital interest to the public.

Officials of Essex and of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, expressed optimism that the 180 strikers would approve the modified agreement worked out Monday at a six-hour meeting with federal and state mediators in Detroit.

Gov. Romney made a personal appeal to the disputants to "remember that the public interest is of greater importance than that of either party."

Frank Gallucci, vice president and legal representative of Essex, and Robert Klingensmith, administrative aide to IUE President James Carey, expressed confidence the modified agreement would be accepted at the mid-afternoon voting session today.

Gov. Romney, Carey and top officials of Essex hammered out broad outlines of a proposed new contract at an all-night session in the governor's office in Lansing last Saturday. Members of the striking IUE Local 810 at Hillsdale decided Sunday not to take a ratification vote pending clarification of issues, and sent the pact back to the local's bargaining committee.

Gallucci said, "Part of the problem was that the union local membership was asked to absorb in a three- or four-hour meeting all the details that we had worked out with the union in more than seven months of bargaining."

Johnson Is Piling Up Delegates

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has been quietly piling up Democratic delegate votes while the political spotlight focused on the Republican presidential nomination race. He already has more than half the number needed for his expected nomination.

The President now has 671 first-ballot votes stemming from primaries, state convention delegates or personally stated preference an Associated Press survey showed today.

This is about 58 per cent of the 1,158½ votes required for the nomination at the Democratic convention in Atlantic City in August.

There has been little doubt that Johnson—although he has not yet announced his candidacy—will win the nomination on the first ballot, perhaps by acclamation.

The only avowed candidate, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, has 38 first-ballot votes—all from Alabama. He might draw scattered support from other Southern delegations which so far have listed themselves as uncommitted. These include South Carolina and Louisiana.

The Mississippi delegation has not been chosen yet.

Unlike the Republicans, who follow a one-man, one-vote policy, the Democrats will have many more delegates than the 2,316 votes authorized for their convention. Some delegates will have one-half of a vote and in a few cases they'll have one-third of a vote.

Besides the 671 votes already committed to him, Johnson is expected to pick up 244 votes from four states in which stand-in candidates won presidential primaries. They are Ohio, Indiana, Maryland and Wisconsin.

There are 621 votes in the hands of delegates who so far

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Foster and Mr. Bowman

In a candlelight ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Hope, Arkansas, Miss Sharon Foster became the bride of Samuel Lee Bowman, II at eight o'clock in the evening June 6, with the Rev. Dr. L.T. Lawrence officiating.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Walker Foster of Hope, and the bridegroom is the son of Samuel Lee Bowman of McGehee and the late Mrs. Bowman.

An after enhanced with myriads of huckleberry, lighted tapers, and sprays of Majestic daisies and white stocks provided the background for the double-ring ceremony. The nuptial music was presented by Luther Hollamon, organist, and David Pearson, soloist, who sang "If I Could Tell You", "With This Ring", and "The Love That Linketh Soul to Soul".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie. The fitted bodice was embroidered with seed pearls and crystal beads in flower motifs, and the controlled skirt had a wide chapel train. Her veil was of Venetian lace which fell softly to the hemline. She carried a wedding bouquet of gardenias and fleur d'amour.

Mrs. Beryl Franklin Anthony, Jr. of Little Rock, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her floor length gown of jade chiffon, designed in Empire style with a cinched neckline and cap sleeves, had a back panel of tulle which formed a demi-train. Her bouquet was of Golden Ray-ture roses and Shasta daisies.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Winston Ivan Sloan of Fayetteville, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Julia Peck of Hope, Mrs. William Hair of Springdale, Miss Cherry Singleton of Magnolia, Miss Rosamond Sample of El Dorado, and Miss Sandra Oley of Memphis. Their gowns and bouquets were identical to those of the matron of honor.

Samuel Lee Bowman served his son as best man. Candles were lit by William Walker Bowman of McGehee, brother of the bridegroom, and Winston Ivan Sloan of Fayetteville. Grooms-men were Vincent Walker Foster, Jr., brother of the bride, and L. William David Watkins and Dennis Paddie of Hope, Larry Ennis White of Kirkwood, Missouri, James William Smith of Muskogee, Oklahoma, and Robert Green Whitfield of Fayetteville.

The bride's mother was attired in a floor length dress of Capri pink chiffon. The bodice draped softly over the shoulders and was beaded at the waist. Matching accessories and an orchid corsage complimented her gown.

A reception at the Hope Country Club followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Cecil Wyatt, Miss Martha Wadde, Mrs. S. A. Flowers, Mrs. Fred Norton of Texarkana, Miss Martha Jane Flowers, Mrs. Dick Watkins, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Miss Suzanne Sommerville, Mrs. John Robert Graves, Miss Sherrie Hankins, Miss Carole Coop, Miss Mary Catherine Walker of Forrest City, Miss Rita Foster of Tulsa, Mrs. Mark Jones and Mrs. Shadinger of Minneapolis, Mrs. Robert Green Whitfield of Fayetteville, and Mrs. John Sikes of Forrest City.

For travel the bride wore a white silk suit with a gardenia corsage. After a wedding trip to New Orleans and the Gulf Coast, the couple will be at home in McGehee where Mr. Bowman will be associated with the McGehee Bank.

MOTHER'S WORK NEVER DONE!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Every Mother's Day my children "honor" me by bringing their families to me to feed. This Mother's Day I had 22 here. All the men played cards and the girls sat in the living room gossiping while I was in the kitchen doing all the work. Pa helped me dry the dishes. I love my children and grandchildren, but I am getting

John Walton, Los Angeles, is spending the week with Glen Hollis and family and other friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Volner Dean Boyd and daughter, who live in California, were through Hope Monday en route to West Monroe, La., and they visited his grandmother, Mrs. Alice Boyd.

The Calvin Smith family came home Friday from St. Louis and Bald Knob.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert, Memphis, are here for three weeks to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Ansley Gilbert.

West Point Cadet Kendall Lemley has been visiting his grandparents, Judge and Mrs. Harry Lemley before leaving by plane from Texarkana for an attachment at Ft. Sill, Okla.

too old to work like this. If I am still around next year, how can I let them know that I would rather not be "honored" like this again without hurting their feelings?

Dear Abby: What feelings? Tell all your children before Mother's Day that Dad is taking you out for dinner. And then see that he does, if you have to use the money you've stashed away in the sugar bowl to help him.

Dear Abby: You said in your column that if a boy says something dirty or out of line in front of a girl, and the girl's brother hears it, it is his place to stand up for his sister and tell the boy off. What if a girl friend doesn't have a brother? My girl friend and I talked over this problem because it has happened to us. She says if a boy says something dirty, the girl should ignore it. What do you think?

Dear Freshman: To ignore offensive language implies that it has your approval. A girl should tell a boy who gets out of line in this manner that he should watch his language. And in no uncertain terms!

Dear Abby: I am a woman physician with three children who don't like to do dishes. I told my problem to a remarkable patient of mine who not only raised her own family but raised several foster children, and did a wonderful job. She sent me a copy of a little poem that she keeps pasted above her kitchen sink:

"Thank God for dirty dishes. They have a tale to tell; While other folks go hungry. We're eating very well. With Home and Health and Happiness. We shouldn't want to fuss, For by this stack of evidence, God's very good to us!" Since I have put up this sign I have had no complaints.

Men Follow Nehru Ashes Into River

ALLAHABAD, India (AP) — Thousands of grieving Indians plunged into the Ganges River in a frenzied stampede today as the ashes of the late Prime Minister Nehru were strewn on India's holy rivers.

At least one woman drowned before police, wielding clubs from boats, forced swimmers and waders to the shore. Four persons were killed in a stampede Sunday as Nehru's ashes were brought from New Delhi.

The mourning thousands, dressed in the white homespun cotton of India's poor, mobbed a floating platform and it sank under their weight. Scores tried to climb in boats filled with newsmen and government officials, but police beat them back. About half a million persons crowded to the river banks or waded in. The temperature hit 107 degrees and scores collapsed. Others were injured by police clubs.

Nehru's family, wilted by the heat and almost defeated by the uproar, went out into the river in an amphibious army vehicle to strew the ashes.

"Babaji" (father) is gone," sobbed Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, as she boarded the vehicle.

Her sons, Rajiv and Sanjay, emptied the urn of Nehru's ashes at a point where the Ganges and the Jumna rivers meet.

CHATTER

By "BILL"

A noted traveler once said: "The best part of any trip is getting back home." We thoroughly agree.

After a hectic week at the market, it is real wonderful to walk down the street in Hope without being pushed, even though it is gently. It is also nice to know that after working all day we can go home and rest and not worry about missing something that we should be doing, like seeing a show or a play, even though we are fagged to a fluffer.

On the other hand, we always enjoy going to the market and meeting people there. We were interested in one designer who told of leaving her Ivory Tower on 7th Avenue and taking a tour through the country visiting the retail shops. By her own admission, she learned some startling facts. All women are not tall, slim and hipless as are the models. She also learned a little about sales resistance. One customer, whom she described as being past seventy, charming, fashionable and wearing a size 18, wanted a dress. The designer suggested a gingham cocktail dress, saying it was just perfect for after-seven wear.

This charming woman informed her that at her age the only thing she needed after seven was a nightgown!

She also discovered that some women prefer square necklines, one saying she already had two circles under her eyes and did not need a third around her neck! And so it went. Our friend concluded that she would rather design than sell.

Fortunately, we would rather sell dresses than do anything else we can think of, and you could easily see why if you would happen in Raley's Style Shoppe. Our summer stock is at its very height. We simply have EVERYTHING to show you.

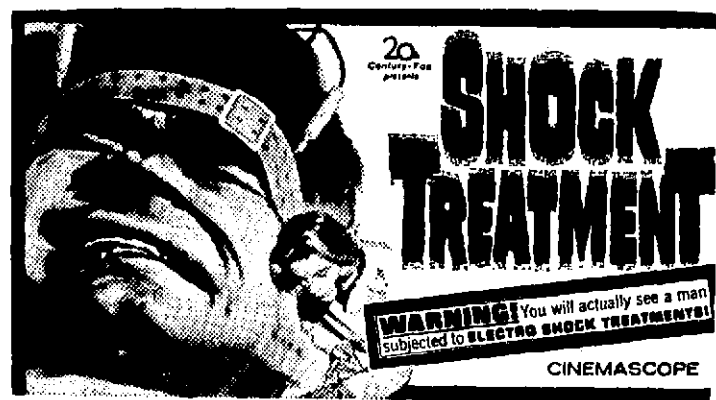

All our early spring dresses and sportswear are reduced to 1/2 price. That's Raley's Style Shoppe, 523 West 3rd.

Koufax Gets 2-1 Victory Over Reds

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander who makes a habit of being stingy with base hits, took a swipe at a second straight no-hitter Monday night and for four innings of a 2-1 Dodger victory over Cincinnati, he had statistics scrambling for their record books.

Koufax retired the first 12 Reds he faced but No. 13, Deron Johnson, broke the spell with a home run. With the pressure off, Koufax gave up three more hits en route to his 100th career victory.

Sandy whose third no-hitter came against Philadelphia last week, scored the tying run in the fifth when he forced Dick Tracewski who had walked, moved up on Maury Wills' single and scored on Willie Davis' hit.

John Roseboro doubled home Tommy Davis with two out in the sixth to win it.

The only pitcher ever to put together back-to-back no-hitters was Johnny VanderMeer, who did it in 1938.

And interestingly, VanderMeer hurled for the Reds and pitched his second no-hitter against the Dodgers.

Elsewhere in Monday's abbreviated major league schedule, Milwaukee whipped Houston 5-3 as Hank Aaron tagged a two-run homer, Cleveland's Leon Wagner took the major league RBI lead with a two-run homer and a run-producing single as the Indians topped Los Angeles 6-3. Jim King smashed three home runs but Washington fowed to Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit outslugged Minnesota 10-5.

The St. Louis at San Francisco National League afternoon game was rained out.

Koufax, bringing his record to 7-4 with his third consecutive victory, also was touched for a ninth-inning single by Johnson and two hits by Steve Boros. Boros beat out a bunt in the fifth and singled in the eighth.

Besides trying for a second straight no-hitter, Koufax also was trying to set a record by striking out 10 or more batters in a single game for the 55th time in his career. The record of 54 is shared by Bob Feller and Rube Waddell. Koufax however, struck out only five.

Felipe Alou opened the Braves' first with a double. One out later, Aaron connected off Hal Brown, 1-6, and Milwaukee never trailed. Alou collected two doubles and Lee Maye also had two hits while Dave Roberts slammed two doubles and a single for the Colts.

Tony Cloninger, 4-5, got the victory but needed ninth-inning relief help when Houston pushed across two runs.

King's three-homer salvo and a pinch-hit homer by Don Zimmer all came with the bases empty. That left the Senators one run short.

The A's got a homer from Ed Charles in the first, then put it away with a four-run eighth-inning uprising. Rocky Colavito singled in two runs before George Alusik wrapped up the

No School Sports in Europe

BOSTON (AP)—The Eastern European complaint about athletics is just the opposite from ours, says Bob Cousy. Everyone in Europe is physically fit but there are almost no sports played in the school system.

The retired basketball great reported today on the five-week tour he just completed with an American professional basketball delegation including NBA stars Bill Russell, K.C. Jones, Tommy Heinsohn, Tom Gola, Bob Pettit, Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas and Coach Red Auerbach.

The trip took the goodwill athletes to Poland, Romania, Yugoslavia and Egypt where they compiled a 21-0 record.

"They play very little sports in the school systems," Cousy said. "In America we have started stressing general youth fitness because only the varsity athletes are in top condition."

"Over there it's the reverse. There's almost no sports, it's all calisthenics and fitness. They can't afford wholesale equipment for one thing. The school work is longer and harder, too, so time is lacking."

"Most of the players don't get acquainted with basketball until they are about 17. We saw some about 30 years old who had reached our college level of development."

As for the tour and the Olympics, Cousy had this to say:

"The people in these countries can't believe we don't send our best athletes to the Olympics. They don't understand the vast difference between our pros and amateurs."

Wagner, who brought his RBI total to 46, and Bob Chance hit back-to-back homers in the eighth after singles by Joe Azcue and Dick Howser around a sacrifice had provided the tying run for the Indians. Chance's homer was his fourth in four games.

The Angels had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh, chasing rookie Sonny Siebert who had a four-hit shutout through six innings.

Don Demeter hit a homer for the Tigers in the first. Then, after the Twins tied it 2-2, Norm Cash hit a three-run shot in the third and put Detroit ahead to stay.

Dave Wickersham, tagged for Harmon Killebrew's 16th homer, won his seventh game after failing on three previous tries, but needed Larry Sherry's relief help.

Yank Golf Stars All Over Britain

GANTON, England (AP)—It's like being in a Little America in Ganton these days.

Step into the golf house of the club where the legendary Harry Vardon was pro in the 1890s and there's sure to be an accent of New York, Alabama or Virginia.

The occasion is the British Amateur Golf Championship, first played 79 years ago.

One-sixth of the field comes from the United States. Many of the American competitors have brought along their wives and friends.

On opening day Monday 22 Americans took their first shots at the title. Eleven survived and made the second round today.

Another 11 Americans who rested Monday, opened their campaigns today. The total field numbers just over 200.

Frank Stafaci, a 48-year-old insurance man from Miami, Fla., and Jack Penrose, 59, of Philadelphia are the veterans of the American contingent.

Penrose is trying his hand in the British Amateur for the 10th time and will open his bid in a second-round match against M. D. Dawson of England. Penrose had a first-round bye.

Strafaci competing in his ninth British championship won his first-round match Monday.

Dale Morrey, 44, former American Walker Cup player; George Blocker, 24-year-old Army corporal, and Paul Coste, headmaster of an American servicemen's school in France, are rated among the strongest American contenders.

Boston Sees Better Day for Hockey

MONTREAL (AP)—The Boston Bruins, trapped in the National Hockey League cellar the past four seasons, have sharpened their teeth for a 1964-65 crashout attempt by ridding Chicago's muscle mill.

The Bruins acquired rangy Ab McDonald and pugacious Reg Monday in exchange for veteran defenseman Doug Mohns.

The trade was the first major deal completed at the annual NHL meetings here.

The new Bruins, both 28-year-olds, are no teddy bears.

McDonald, 6-foot-2 and 190 pounds was a 20-goal scorer on the Hawks' Scooter Line for two years before slipping to a 14-goal total in 1963-64. He had 32 assists, however, and is the established playmaker Boston has been seeking to complete a left-wing corps that includes Johnny Bucyk and Dean Prentice.

Ab, a former Montreal Canadian, has a career total of 95 goals and 143 assists.

Fleming, a 5-foot-10, 180-pound fireplug, made his mark as a penalty-prone penalty killer in three years with Chicago. He is another product of the Montreal system and has played defense as well as left wing and center.

He holds the NHL single-game record for penalty minutes, 37, and logged 140 minutes during the 1963-64 campaign.

Mohns, 30, was a blueline fixture in Boston for 11 seasons. Used occasionally as a forward he scored nine goals and 17 assists last season. He has a lifetime mark of 118 goals and 229 assists.

Travlers Win 10 of the Last 12

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers won No. 10 out of their last dozen Monday night, posting a 5 - 4 Pacific Coast League baseball victory over Salt Lake City.

Gary Kroll spread out 11 hits and struck out 10 to record his 7th victory against 3 losses.

The Bees enjoyed a brief lead before the Travelers made a sweep of the four-game series.

Leroy Gregory tripled with two out in the top of the sixth, and Don Davis singled him home. Kroll had a little trouble, and two more runs came in on a walk, an error by the big Traveler hurler and a wild pitch.

Arkansas bounced back with all five of its runs in the bottom of the sixth. The four-hit inning included doubles by Costen Shockley and Adolfo Phillips.

The fourth Salt Lake City run came from an RBI single in the eighth by Ron Campbell.

Strap Used on Unruly at School

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Some infractions of rules at the Boys Training School here are punished by use of a leather strap, it was revealed by school Supt. Dean Rowell.

Rowell, said the most common form of punishment at the school is the taking away of privileges, but the strap is sometimes used on serious offenders.

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Joe Hubbard called attention last week to the use of the strap as a form of punishment in state prisons.

A short time later Prison Supt. Dan Stephens announced through the state pardons and paroles board that its use would be discontinued.

Rowell said efforts to discontinue that form of punishment at the training school had proven unsuccessful for some boys.

"But," he said, "We keep in mind that these are kids and we apply similar methods with them as we would our own children. We call it applied psychology."

Rowell said the effect of whippings as a punishment would become ineffective if it was overdone.

"It become abuse then," he said.

He cited punishment of run-aways as one example of when the strap, similar to a razor-strap, is used.

"We have no blanket policy, but if we find out that a boy was not just homesick and just wanted to get out and stir up trouble, we will use the strap," Rowell said.

The training school is a corrective institution and not a prison. It has what Rowell called "an open-door policy." There are no cells and the buildings are never locked he said.

He added that in the 1930s, the boys were shackled with ball and chain and guards were armed with shotguns and used bloodhounds. This policy was discontinued in 1939, Rowell said.

600-Mark Is Close for Goldwater

By LARRY OSIUS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's drive for Republican presidential nominating delegates is expected to near the 600 mark this week as 146 delegates are chosen in 10 states.

With the GOP convention opening five weeks from today, the Arizona senator has 535 first ballot votes according to an Associated Press survey of delegates already chosen. He needs just 120 more—655—for a first ballot victory.

Indications are that Goldwater will pick up enough votes this week to boost his front running total near the 600 mark and set the stage for the last two state conventions next week in Montana and Texas.

Goldwater will be favored to win most of those delegates, apparently giving him enough to win the nomination.

But Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said Sunday he thought Goldwater would be from 80 to 100 votes short of a first ballot nomination, and he envisioned "quite a contest."

While attention is on the GOP presidential nomination race, candidates for two governorships, three Senate seats and 10 House seats will be decided by voters or party conventions in five states.

Goldwater's post-California primary drive got under way over the weekend at State conventions in Colorado, Alabama, Washington and Hawaii and at a pair of district conventions in Virginia. Combined with some minor vote shifts in Iowa and the District of Columbia, he netted 65 votes, according to the AP survey based on primary commitments, pledges, instructions or stated preference.

The field shaped this way:

Goldwater	535
Nelson A. Rockefeller	128
William W. Scranton	85
Henry Cabot Lodge	45
Richard M. Nixon	15
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Favorite sons	93
Uncommitted	209

Indiana Republicans meet today and Tuesday to elect 32 GOP delegates, but their votes have already been credited to Goldwater, under state law, because of his May 5 preferential primary victory there.

'D Day' Disclosed to Surprised Yanks Many Nazi Guns Only Dummies

By WICK TEMPLE

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Twenty years ago today Capt. Powell Rhea stood on the bridge of the battleship Nevada and directed the bombardment that helped launch the Allied invasion of Normandy.

Rhea, now 72 and a retired admiral, says he will never get over his big surprise of D-Day, 1944—the fact that so many German shore batteries were dummies.

"We were confident that we were going to do the job," said Rhea, a real estate agent in his home town of Fayetteville. "But we expected a certain amount of damage and casualties because of the concentration of shore batteries we had seen in aerial photographs."

"Then they shot at us a little, but their accuracy was poor. And we realized that a lot of those guns were dummies. When our shore parties got there, they confirmed it."

"But we would have wiped them out even if they had those big guns. We knew we could take it."

The Nevada, one of two battleships that stood four miles off Utah Beach, was never touched by German fire.

Aside from his ship, Rhea's biggest personal concern that day was for his brother-in-law, Gen. H. W. Blakeley, artillery officer of the Army's 4th Division.

Blakeley's division was one of the first ashore. It told Rhea where to fire to wipe out German emplacements.

In the H-hour bombardment that preceded the landing, Rhea ment, announced Sunday it had reached the mid-point of its petition campaign.

The group is trying to get 40,000 signatures, although only 30,809 are needed under state law to get the proposed amendment on the November general election ballot.

Dr. H. D. Luck of Arkadelphia, state chairman of the committee, said more than 22,500 signatures had been turned in.

May Save Orphanage With Gifts

PERIGUEUX, France (AP) — Thanks to a burst of generosity from admirers, Negro singer Josephine Baker may be able to save her children's village at nearby Milandes.

A flood of donations have been pouring into a special account to prevent the eviction Tuesday night of Miss Baker and her 11 adopted children.

The star announced last week that she was broke and heavily in debt. Her 12th century chateau at Milandes and its furnishings were to be sold at auction Tuesday unless she could satisfy her creditors.

Movie star Brigitte Bardot made a radio-television appeal for Miss Baker. It was an unusual gesture for Miss Bardot, who had never met Miss Baker and detests the glare of television lights.

The French television office was deluged with calls asking where to send the checks.

Miss Baker says she needs $400,000 to get the chateau at Milandes into the black for good.

She has adopted children of various races to conduct a living demonstration of racial understanding. The children—all but one of them boys—are between 4 and 12 years old. They came from places as distant as Japan, Africa, South America and Finland.

Several years ago Miss Baker decided she would try to develop Milandes as a tourist attraction that would provide her children with a steady income. She could then retire permanently from the stage.

The property, including the hotels, the chateau and its grounds, now is heavily mortgaged. The horde of tourists did not materialize, and the tourist center has been a steadily losing proposition.

Miss Baker said last week that if she can solve her immediate problem, she intends to launch out on a different tack. She holds about 500 acres of very fertile ground which she believes can be profitably developed.

The United Nations took a step designed to encourage Turks to come out from behind their walls and travel without escorts through Greek territory. The plan to stop escorting was announced Sunday night and a spokesman spelled it out more clearly today. He said special escorts still would be provided.

A U.N. spokesman said the Greek Cypriot government has given assurances that travelers will not be molested and convoys from Turkish areas to port for export or those bringing in essential supplies will be cleared.

Goldwater Names 3 'Stoppers'

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater figures that it would take the solid and open opposition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton to derail his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

The Arizona senator indicates he sees no chance of that.

"If they did that, I'd probably sleep out anyway," Goldwater told newsmen Sunday night as he flew back from Chester, Pa. "A thing like that would tear the party apart."

Goldwater said earlier that all three men have disavowed any ance to allies, and a reply to Sen. Barry Goldwater who has been consistently critical of American defenses.

Johnson opened up just one day after Goldwater's victory in the California primary pushed him far ahead of all other contenders for the Republican presidential nomination in July.

Johnson, whose own nomination by the Democrats in August is taken for granted, never mentioned the Arizona. But his words were a clear reply to Goldwater. The speech took in more than Goldwater.

It was so detailed Johnson's talk can be considered a basic reply to any attacks the Republican party may try to make when the campaign gets going.

In talks, Goldwater has made since the start of 1964 and more recently in a booklet — "Sen. Goldwater Speaks Out on the Issues"—the senator has attacked this country's defense set-up in general and its missiles in particular.

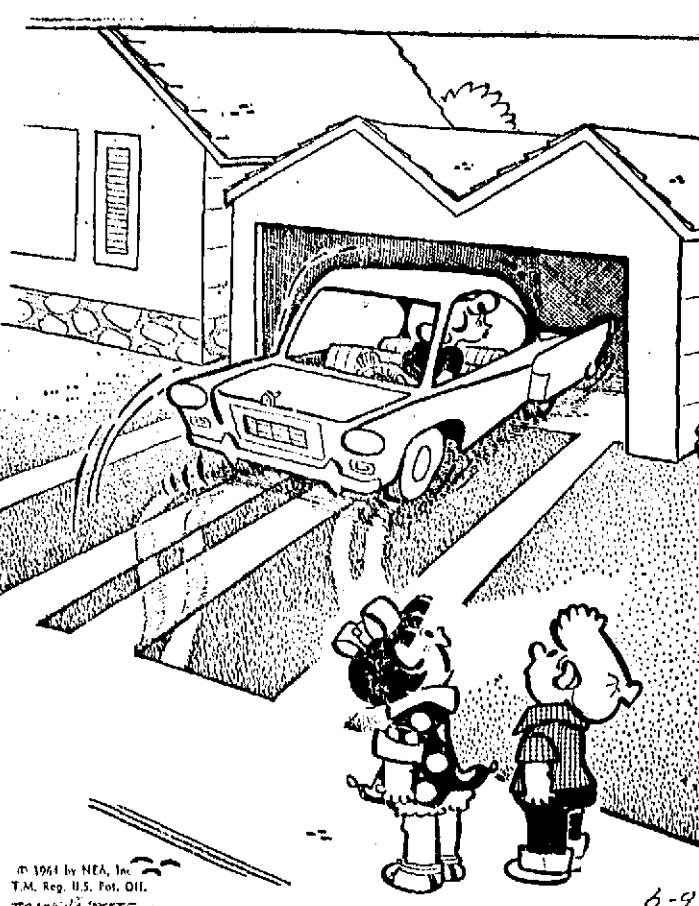

The Johnson administration wasted no time going after Goldwater when he began his attack last January with the statement that U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles were "undependable."

He got a fast answer from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, whom Johnson has blessed consistently. McNamara called Goldwater "politically irresponsible" and his statement "damaging to national security."

Goldwater has attacked him ever since. But on the same day Goldwater made his statement, Eisenhower said he is confident the United States has "just as good missiles as there are in the world."

Ruby Denies Any Link to Oswald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A clean-shaven but "wild-eyed" Jack Ruby told Chief Justice Earl Warren Sunday he had no connection with Lee Harvey Oswald, whom he shot two days after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

This was reported by a reliable source after Warren spent more than three hours with Ruby in the Dallas County jail.

It was believed the first time a chief justice of the United States ever took testimony from a prisoner in jail.

Warren and other members of the Warren Commission toured the Texas School Book Deposiin any stop-Goldwater movement. But he told a group of Michigan Republicans in Detroit that he would willingly accept any assignment the Republicans gave him "and if the party should decide on me as its candidate, Mr. Johnson would know he'd been in a fight."

Goldwater heads today for a rendezvous with Nixon, Eisenhower and other top Republicans at the National Governors' Conference in Cleveland, Ohio.

Oswald was charged with the murders of both Kennedy and Tippit. Ruby is under the death sentence for slaying Oswald.

Details of the jail conference were not made public. However it is known that Warren, J. Lee Rankin, commission counsel, and Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., a commission member, asked Ruby if he knew Oswald and was there a conspiracy involved when he shot him.

Ruby reportedly replied in the negative. He also was asked about his trip to Cuba in the late 1950s, but his answers are not known.

You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustang came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history even before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model-year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)...or luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 68%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about? Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)

New Bridge for Memphis Is Near

MEMPHIS (AP) - The Tennessee and Arkansas Highway Commissions meet today in Memphis to discuss financing of a new bridge across the Mississippi River at Memphis.

The Arkansas Highway Commission and Gov. Orval E. Faubus feel that Tennessee should pay a larger share of the costs of the project because the bridge will be of more benefit to Memphis than to Arkansas.

Tennessee and Arkansas are to share $5 million of this bridge's total cost of $37 to $50 million cost. Arkansas has suggested that Tennessee pay $3 million of that.

Mrs. Cassie Smith

Pictured above is Mrs. Cassie Smith, a resident of Washington and an instructor at Arkansas Baptist College, Little Rock.

Mrs. Smith, a dedicated worker, has served in social, community and religious activities in the city of Little Rock, and in the Eastern Hemisphere near her daughter. She is a graduate of Arkansas Baptist College, and is doing graduate work at Bishop College. Along with Arts, her other fields of endeavor include Health and Juvenile Literature. One of the most magnificent jobs that she has performed, and is sharing her skill with others, is the making of hats and other decorating materials. People from various sections of the state have come to witness such beautiful objects. On Founder's Day during the week of May 24, people from far and near came to Arkansas Baptist College where they observed and purchased some of the items.

On Friday, May 22, fifty-one Art students honored her with a surprise party.

The students from Hope who are attending Baptist rejoice in informing the general public of the accomplishments of this great leader. Her work has influenced many students to come to Arkansas Baptist College. Hempstead County should be proud of such a dynamic leader and person.

Employment Record Set in Arkansas

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) - Non-farm employment in Arkansas and three other states continued to set records during April, it was reported Saturday by the Labor Department's regional office here.

The Labor department said employment in Arkansas increased 4,200 over April, 1963, a rise of one per cent. Oklahoma had the largest increase with a gain of 6,500 workers for a 1.1 per cent increase.

Texas increased .8 per cent or 20,400 workers and Louisiana had a .5 per cent increase or 3,700 workers.

Employment in the four states totaled 4,589,000 for non-agricultural jobs in April, the Labor Department said. The increase in employment from April 1963 was 94,800 for the four - state proud of such a dynamic leader and person.

UNEASY LIES THE DEAD

By M. E. Chaber

Copyright © 1964 by Kendall Foster Crossen Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Story: Milo March continues his search for the missing Thomas Rako, who vanished during a Congressional investigation nearly seven years previously. March believes that Rako is alive and if Rako is found payment of a million dollars will be saved. Rako's disappearance may have been aided by Johnny Clark, Rako's partner, because Rako might have revealed something about Clark to the Congressional investigators.

XIV

"Any other large cash withdrawals by the union in the last seven years?"

"Oh many. Perhaps some went to Rako, but there were more big withdrawals than Clark would give Rako, no matter what he had on Clark. Again no records. And the books always balance perfectly."

"You know, one thing I forgot to ask the Cleveland police. Was he born and raised in Cleveland?"

Salem searched his memory. "No, I seem to remember that he was born in Berkeley, Calif. I think he first went to reform school there at the age of 14. Then I believe the family moved to Chicago for a short time, and on to Cleveland when he was about 17 or 18."

"Well, I won't take up any more of your time," I said. "Thanks for all the co-operation, Mr. Salem."

"You're welcome, but I don't see how any of this can help you." He looked at me sharply. "I've answered your questions, Mr. March. Now, answer one for me."

"Twice you've mentioned that you work differently than the regular police. What do you mean by that?"

"Well, I said carefully, 'the regular police, even the FBI, have to account to others—superiors, the city, the state, the Federal Government, and eventually the public. I don't have to account to anybody or anything, except the laws of this country. I don't have the facilities of the police, or the FBI and I don't usually have much help. And in this case I don't have much time. So I locate the people who seem most obviously involved and I start pushing them. If they're guilty, sooner or later they start making mistakes. When that happens it's only a matter of time until I have my case. You might call it an application of mathematics."

"You might," he said with a smile "You might also be killed."

The report attributed the employment increases to significant expansion in a number of areas. They were a 3.5 per cent expansion in contract construction, 3.1 in manufacturing, 2.9 in services and 2.9 in finance, insurance and real estate.

He glanced at the bill and took it all in the same movement. "That's what I'm here for, sir," he said.

"I understand you were working here seven years ago?"

"Something in his face changed. I've been here 14 years, sir, 10 of them as bell captain."

"I wonder if you remember

led that way."

"That can happen in your bathtub. So far I've made out. I'm careful—in the bathtub and out."

His gaze flicked across my chest. "You don't seem to be armed."

"I'm not at the moment. But that will be corrected as soon as I return to my hotel."

"Legally?"

I nodded. "I have a gun permit for the District and for a number of states."

"Why will you arm yourself when you get back to the hotel?"

"You wondered why I went to see Johnny Clark. I went to tell him my theory about Thomas Rako and to assure him that I was going to find Rako. I was followed from his building to this one. I expect to be followed when I leave here."

"I have a feeling," he said, "that I probably shouldn't ask any more questions. There may be things I shouldn't know. But I wish you luck. I'd like to see Thomas Rako found. He's a piece of unfinished business in my life."

The taxi let me out in front of the Peraton Hotel. As I went up the steps to where the doorman waited for me, I glanced around and saw the sedan pull into a parking place a half-block away. I went on into the lobby, stopping at the desk to see if there was any mail or any calls for me. There weren't.

"I don't suppose you're the night clerk?" I asked the man behind the desk.

"No, sir. He'll be here in about an hour and a half."

"Thanks," I said.

I walked across the lobby to the bell captain. He was a short, stocky man who looked to be about 35. I took a $10 bill out of my pocket and folded it so the numerals still showed.

"I'd like to talk to you," I said.

"I wonder if you remember something that happened seven years ago. A man disappeared from this hotel. A man named Thomas Rako."

"Cop?" he asked. His voice sounded more tired than anything else.

"No. Insurance."

"I should've known. Cop sdon't hand out sawbucks."

"Do you remember him?"

"How could I forget him. I've been visited by cops four times a year ever since."
